POLICE CAUSED THE TROUBLE

Coxey Didn't Walk on the Grass or Carry a Banner.

CONGRESSMEN TESTIFY IN HIS BEHALF

Coxey's Lawyer Reads a Chapter from the Bible-Arguments Commenced and Will Probably Be Concluded Today-Judge Outlines His Charge.

WASHINGTON, May 7 .- The defense had its inning in the police court trial, where the leaders of the Commonweal, Coxey, Browne and Jones, are on trial for their May day demonstration at the capitol.

Young Attorney Hyman, who defende Browne and Jones, made the opening state ment for the defense. There was no denial or defense for what the Commonwealers had done, he began. The defense would consist in the lawfulness of their actions. He could remember but one similar occurrence in history, and thereupon he produced a bible and began to read a scriptural passage. "I must object to that," interposed the district attorney. "The gentleman should confine himself to a statement of facts." "Does the attorney deny that this is a fact?" demanded the young attorney holding his bible aloft dramatically.

He was permitted to proceed and read the passage of the Old Testament, reciting that the Lord had commanded Moses to take off his shoes because he trod on holy ground. He had not talked long before Judge Miller was compelled to make the same objection made by the district attorney and to requesthe lawyer to devote himself to the recital of what was intended to be proven. Instead of the police the defense would call citizens who had witnessed the occurrence Mr. Hyman said. From his somewhat dis coursive statement it was clear that the de fense would be based largely on the bru tality of the police in clubbing citizens was to be shown that Coxey had not walked on the grass and that Browne had been driven through the shrubbery by the police.

FIRST WITNESS FOR THE DEFENSE. The first witness for the defense was Mr. Frank Harper, a young newspaper man from Alexandria, Va. According to his story the police had driven the citizens on the grass before the procession arrived in order to clear the pathways. He saw General Coxey arrive. The general wore nothing designed to attract notice to his or ganization, but walked so quietly steps that he was not recognized until the people who knew him pointed him out. Thirteen policemen stood on the steps and surrounded the general when he arrived. The witness was certain that Coxey had not walked on the grass. On cross examination he said there were 50,000 or 60,000 waiting, all cheering and whooping for Coxey.

"Disorderly, were they not?" inquired the district attorney. "Oh, no. They had a right to cheer; The police came near running in a little girl in front of him, Harper said. He had been ordered off the asphalt streets by them two or three times, but returned every time. "Then you disobeyed the police?" said the they were American citizens."

district attorney.
"The police are not the law. They are the agents of the people to carry out the law," was the reply. One of the persons in the crowd on the grass was Senator

Mitness No. 2 was a colored man named Samuel L. Perry, who, when asked his business, explained, "I am one of the army of the unemployed just now."

Until the beginning of the democratic administration by head head perpendiced in the ministration he had been employed in the treasury. He had followed the procession, treasury. He had followed the procession, had kept by General Coxey and could awear the general did not touch the grass. Being called upon to give a ruling on the postion asked this witness Judge Miller said that it might be a mitigating circum stance bearing upon the intent to violate the law that a defendant had been forced upon the grass by circumstances. The judge had that 100,000 violations of the law lid not excuse one violation of it. witness had also seen the police drive the people on the grass.

COXEY TAKES THE STAND. General Coxey himself, in his gray spring sult with creased trousers, walked into the witness stand. He gave his residence as

"What is your business?" was asked. "I have a stone quarry, manufacture sand for steel works and run a stock farm. I am now engaged in lobbying for the unemployed

"What is the object of your visit to Wash "To petition congress to pass two laws to give work to the unemployed on public im-provements."

The men who came with him did so, Mr. Coxey said, on the principle that they might as well be with him as anywhere. They ere out of work, their families were des

"Did you obey the laws of the state?" "Not one chicken feather can be traced to our camp. We knew that the success of the movement depended upon our behavior. Men were warned not to beg or drink."

In his conversation with the chief of pe lice of Washington General Coxey said that it was his purpose to keep within the laws. He told Major Moore that the army might break up and enter the capitol grounds as American citizens, and the chief said there would be no objection to that.

"He said that we must not carry banners into the grounds, because it was against the law," the general continued. "I said there was one banner from Pittsburg, given by laboring men, that I had promised to plant there if my life was spared, and I would like to carry that. However, the banner was packed into the wagons with the others, or I gave Marshal Browne orders to pack them.

Here Mr. Lipscombe exhibited the banner. It was of white satin with green letters and read: "Pittsburg and Allegheny. More Money; Less Misery; Good Roads; No Interest on Bonds."

"My object in going to the capitol," said Mr. Coxey, "was to present to congress my two bills, the good roads bill and the nor interest-bearing bonds bill and to address the congress of the United States and the people on them. POLICE CAUSED ALL THE TROUBLE. Representative Pence argued that the de-fense wanted to show that all the trouble was caused by the police and said they had a dozen members of congress to testify to that effect. Finally the members of congress were allowed to tell that the police had driven women and children and men over the grass in their charge. W. F. Longstreet of Worcester, Mass., and Mr. Stetstuz, a law student from M. Lips-comb's office, testified that paths had been made across the capitol turf by those who

KELLY ALMOST READY TO FLOAT.

Will Have His Fleet Completed by This Evening-Appeal to Organized Labor. DES MOINES, May 7 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.) - Kelly's army put in a hard day's work at the improvised navy yard at Coon Point today, and over 100 of the boats were completed and the balance in course of construction. The remaining boats will be completed tomorrow evening or Wednesday morning. There will be 150 boats, with Kelly's flagship, bearing the American flag, in the lead and followed in single file by a long line of flat boats, each with about ten men aboard. One of the boats will be fitted up especially for the newspaper reporters, a dozen or more of whom will accompany the men to the Mississippi. General Kelly has issued a general appeal for donations of pro-visions with which to feed the army until it can reach Ottumwa, where he expects to get another supply sufficient to last until his arrival at Keckuk. The long procession of boats, having on board 1,300 homeless men, will doubtless attract wide attention and present a spectacle never before seen by the farmers and others residing along the river, which has not been navigable since 1859 or 1860, when the steamers Des Moines, Belle, Charley, Clara Hines and Colonel Morgan made their last trips and

Colonel Morgan made their last trips and retired forever from the stream.

The following appeal was sent out this morning: "General Kelly's army is largely composed of members of organized labor. They are engaged in a crusade calculated to benefit labor in various ways, and especially in an educational way. The army is sadly in need of material support. Every effort is being put forth by a combination of corporations to impede the course of its march, and, if possible, to annihilate the army as a body of sible, to annihilate the army as a body of unemployed workingmen. Without commit-ting itself to any particular theory or pro-posed legislative policy, now is certainly one of the times when organized is nor can furth r its cause and the interests of labor in gen eral by doing a simple act of charity. therefore appeal to you in this emergency to contribute something toward helping Gen-eral Kelly feed his men. We trust that every trades or labor organization in country will contribute at least $1 each, and that unorganized labor will also do its full part. Remit to J. R. Sovereign, master workman of Knights of Labor, Des Moines, Ia."

This appeal is signed by Eugene V. Debs. president American Railway union; Sovereign, general master workman Knights of Labor; L. P. Jones, president, State Fedration of Labor of Iowa; J. W. Wolfe, vice president Iowa State Federation of Labor; George E. Shaver, secretary and treasurer State Federation of Labor and president Des Moines Trades and Labor Assembly; Fred L. Barnett, vice president 163, American Railway union; Sam D. Nedry, president State Federation of Labor of Nebraska, and W. S. Sebring, secretary of the Central Labor union of Omaha.

READY TO MARCH.

Tomorrow the Omaha Commonwealers Will Turn Their Faces Toward Washington. Attracted by the music of a fife and drum corps organized for the occasion, about 500 people, male and female, assembled at Jefferson square last night to listen to the orators of the Omaha branch of the Industrial army. H. M. Tichnor was the first speaker, as after an address embracing the usual points, he urged every man before him, out of job, to report and register at Thirteenth and Castellar for the march to Washington, which is to begin tomorrow morning. ne Introduced Captain Duff of the Lincoln contingent, and in response a rather lanky individual with a full beard came to the railing and delivered a speech which some what electrified his hearers. He claimed that the petition in boots was perfectly well aware of what it wanted, and would speak

o congress in no uncertain tones. T. C. Kelsey followed with an address, out lining what he considered the faults of the national legislature and the demands of the unemployed, calling out the vigorous applause of his hearers. It was announced that the start would be nade from Omaha temorrow morning, and that at least 500 men would be in line. Several selections were rendered by fife and drum band under the leadership of Will M. Johnson, who gounded the bass drum, and pounded it with a will.

School Officers Getting Ready for the Coming Year.

CITY COUNCIL FAILED TO GET A QUORUM

As a Result the Occupation Tax Matter as Applied to Saloon Keepers Went Over for Another Week

The members of the School Board held a short session last night. President W. B. Cheek administered the oath of office to the newly elected members, Mr. E. D. Gideon and Mr. F. O. Olson. These gentlemen do not take possession of their office until July 1, when the new board will organize for the year.

A number of bills were read and referred. Superintendent Monroe reported that the average attendance in April was 1,401 and for so far this year it was 1,765. Last year the average was 2,189. During the last month, there had been a great deal of sickness among the children, and this fact had reduced the attendance materially. The proposition to build a retaining wall around the High school grounds and to expend money in beautifying the grounds was discussed and referred to the committee on buildings and grounds. An estimate of the cost will be ascertained and the committee will report on the same at an adjourned meeting Wednesday night.

The board will soon build an addition to the Brown Park school and the committee on buildings will report on the estimated cost of this work at the next meeting. No Ouorum Present.

Mayor Johnston was warm under the collar last evening when he discovered that there was not a quorum present at the meeting of the city council. The most important matter to be disposed of was the ordinance repealing the ordinance levying an occupa-tion tax of $100 a year on the saloon keepers, A petition signed by a large number of tax payers and all of the saloon keepers requesting that this tax be removed was presented to the city council several weeks ago. Councilman Meiss introduced a resolution instructing the city attorney to draw an ordinance repealing the occupation tax ordinance and this ordinance was to have been acted upon last night. The absent members were Waiters, Meiss and Koutsky, Mr. Koutsky was at the meeting early in the evening, but stepped out for a moment and the meeting was adjourned until this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Councilman Mullaly discovered last evening that the bonds filed by the liquor dealers were for $2,500 each, instead of $5,000, and he will request that the signers qualify for that amount. It has been the custom in the past to allow them to qualify or $2,500, but City Attorney Farnsworth has een looking up the matter and requested the license committee to have the bondsmen qualify for the full amount that is required by law.

secretary Herbert and Party Enroute to Pacific Coast Naval Stations.

Hon. H. A. Herbert, secretary of the navy. nd party honored the city with a short visit yesterday. The party came in over the Northwestern in their private car, Delaware, this forenoon and took carriage for up town. Besides the honorable secretary the party consists of Lieutenant Reamey, naval aide to the secretary, Miss Herbert, Miss Buell, a niece of the secretary, and Mrs. Micou, a relative of the Herberts.

Lieutenant Reamey was seen by a reporter in the private car at the depot. He said that it was the intention of the party to pro-ceed this afternoon via the Union Pacific to Ogden, thence to Salt Lake, where a short stop will be made. From the Mormon city the party will go to San Francisco. Upon arriving at that point the secretary will inspect the Mare Island navy yard, one of the most important in the country, and also the government vessels now in that port. From the Golden Gate the secretary will proceed to Puget Sound, where a naval station has recently been established.

Mr. Herbert has never visited the navy yards on the Pacific coast and he feels that a personal inspection will enable him to handle the business of the department much more rapidly and with better satisfaction to all concerned.

A visit will also be paid to the iron works at Monterey, where some of the work for vessel-building at the Mare Island yard is being done. The secretary has also inti-mated that he will go to Santa Cruz to witness a test of a new powder which the inventor desires to sell to the government.

"What has become of the old cruiser Omaha?" asked the reporter of Lieutenant Roamey. The naval officer studied a moment and then referred to a register he had handy. "I was on the Omaha during her last cruise," said the aide to the secretary. "She is a wooden ship and is now lying in the Mare Island navy yard and marked unserviceable on the register. Sha returned from the China station a year or two ago and has been laid up ever since. I doubt very much if she will ever he put in commission again." This morning Lieutenant Reamey called at army headquarters and paid his respects to General Brooke, the commander of the Department of the Platte. Secretary Herbert and the ladies of his party took a drive about the city and reurned to their car for lunch.
